Hexamail Vault is a reliable software that provides users with a complete e-mail archiving solution especially designed for all e-mail servers. With the help of Hexamail Vault you have the possibility to archive, index, audit, manage and organize all your e-mail messages and calendars, improve the performance of your mail server, as well as to index PST files from disk. With Hexamail Vault you can archive e-mails from POP, IMAP, Exchange and POP3 accounts. You can access archived messages in different modes: with a web interface, by using an e-mail address, by using a regular calendar, by using a calendar link, by using another Hexamail Vault client or by using a Hexamail Vault client to directly access the archive from a mobile device or PC. You can also archive calendar items. Each archived item has a "time frame" that corresponds to the lifetime of the calendar. These calendar items, for example, can be archived only while the date is between a certain date and date, or by a specific time. You can use several Hexamail Vault clients to access the same archive. For example, you can use Hexamail Vault to archive e-mails from a POP3 account, and use Hexamail Vault to archive e-mails from an IMAP account. Hexamail Vault manages several objects at a time: e-mails, calendars, accounts, folders and rules. A "rule" consists of a "conditions" list with a "actions" list. If a "conditions" matches a "rule", the "actions" list is executed. Several Hexamail Vault clients can access the same archive, each client with its own "rules". Hexamail Vault allows you to generate a report that indicates the number of e-mails in every folder and the number of e-mails in every archive, or to generate a report indicating the number of e-mails in every account and the number of e-mails in every folder and the number of e-mails in every archive. Furthermore, you can export all e-mails to a calendar as a "personal events" list. Like other e-mail client, Hexamail Vault also allows you to use other e-mail clients to access the e-mails archived in Hexamail Vault. Hexamail Vault supports all Microsoft Windows version including Windows 8. Hexamail Vault allows you to schedule the import of e-mails and the export of e-mails to other programs. This blog will examine most of the inequities involving the law, immigrations, education, employment, political, health care.
