In the future, the human race is organized into a large corporate state, which supports modernized military hardware. Conflicts between enemy forces are now fought with extremely high-powered weaponry. The game begins with a global war between the two main military powers in a world of magic and technology: the Argon Empire and the Silver Kingdom. Both of these enemies are led by scheming masterminds who see the world for their own personal gain. They are aided by a large number of mercenaries, and are supported by a wide variety of magic and military techniques But the strategy and magic don't do them any favors. Even as they become the strongest, they face a series of setbacks. The front line moves further and further away, and finally, the war simply ends in a stalemate. "Battle Splash 2.0" is a sequel to "Trianga's Battle Splash". It is a modern shooting action game that focuses on high-powered artillery battles and naval battles. The game features a vast number of weapons, combined with powerful magic skills, and artillery and naval battles in a stylized 3D environment. Players can use variety of weapons to attack enemies, and the game is filled with quests and a storyline. Complete quests to continue the story. The story is set in a multidimensional virtual world, with the future of the earth as the backdrop. Special features include a large and diverse story and game world. With many well-designed and pre-designed scenarios. The art style and characters are also highly refined and are designed to be as aesthetically pleasing as possible. A high-quality atmosphere generates a feeling of an action game that strikes you like a magnet. The game is free to play and is also available on the Google Play Store. The accompanying DLC new weapons, outfits and an artillery cannon Contact: Trianga's Project: Battle Splash 2.0 Game Center (Contact Us: Local community: Google: Google Group: Facebook: d41b202975

What's new in Trianga's Project: Battle Splash 2.0:

! Hello Everyone, I am Trianga, and I'm proud to be owner of "Trianga's Project: Battle Splash 2.0." Not only am I proud, but I'm very honored to share with you all another contest with a new twist. As we are anticipating the year of 5-0, many of us eagerly anticipated the start of SS.5, which is amazing. However, I'm just as excited about a competition which will take place in our event. THIS IS OUR NEXT EVENT! Now, before I give you all an overview of what this upcoming contest is, I want to first give you all a little background on our Events. We have been running events since SS.3 began, so we can pretty much say that we've been around for quite a while. I will briefly explain what has always been required of all events. We have 2 rules that we adhere to religiously, and obviously this is for a reason. First, and most importantly, we are here to help grow our Community. We think that the best way that we can demonstrate how we value you is to give you the best experience in games. We have a very slow pace, but a lucrative one. Second, we do not want our Partners to resort to methods that get around the rules. What's more important, we want our Partners to spend their time on tournaments and the actual project. We will always do our best to limit the amount of XP given for travel, however, because of the type of contest, it is a tense situation. Also, we want to offer a very low tax for players so you can spend your money on shopping/farming. So why do we care about having a HIGH tax? Because we think that in order to enjoy our games, we have to pay an appropriate amount of XP to our Partners. Thus in order to ensure that all of us have a rewarding experience, we have held onto our rule that players are provided with a certain amount of XP per champion per event. Thus, by having a lower amount of XP for the tournament, it would be a disincentive to the Partners to enter more events. For the Partners who register events, it will help you to drop your tax rate. If players are discouraged from entering tournaments, but instead would like to spend their time on our awesome project, the low tax rate would certainly help alleviate the stress of all that XP they would otherwise have to complete to earn just one XP. This is where the
