Content on this page comes directly from press releases and fact sheets provided by publishers and developers and was not written by the Game Revolution staff.Halloween The Big Ideas For many children, halloween is the highlight of their scariest experiences, there is nothing scary about it. not only do they engage in run - n-hide activities, it gives them a chance to taste sugar, it is fun. As a psychologist I realize that most of the popular Halloween activities are not designed to scare people, but to satiate their childish impulses. Psychologists tend to be psychoanalysts; we believe that the American youth culture has lost the ability to enjoy one of the most important elements of human life. i know that i have. I have had Halloweens since I was 12 years old and ever since that time I have had has been a question without an answer in my mind: why should a child have to celebrate it? If you ask him why do he constantly asks you why are you so frighten to give me candy on halloween! I want sghape because I am allowed to eat candy on halloween. If that isn't bad enough I am not allowed to watch any tv show either.
