Online Resource – a “name” for a credit card, only people with “Latin names” might want a credit card with a single name. A name is materially different from a “Latin name,” so that the court’s holding is necessarily limited to the idea of a “Latin name,” but this is an attempt to circumvent the issue by raising a new argument. Moreover, the law of the circuit on the right to jury trial prohibits courts from imposing sentence under a new theory sua sponte without giving defendants a chance to object. “A district court’s compliance with this mandate requires explanation by the court of its newly adopted theory of the case.” United States v. Jones, 607 F.3d 944, 949 (11th Cir. 2010) (quotation marks omitted). “This explanation may not be made post-hoc, or by way of a reply brief.” Id. (quotation marks omitted). A new legal theory is a new theory, and the government must argue that theory. See United States v. Benavides, 596 F.2d 137, 139 (5th Cir. 1979). The government should not be permitted to take advantage of the law of 13 Case: 14-14370 Date Filed: 07/16/2015 Page: 14 of 15 the circuit in one case, and later argue that theory in a subsequent case to obtain an enhanced sentence. The government cannot do so because it is prohibited by both the Constitution and the Eleventh Circuit. Second, it is undisputed that the district court erred by announcing the Guidelines range of 87 to 108 months at the sentencing hearing. The court's pre-sentence report was a package of documents filed under 6d1f23a050
