(1.1 MB)Inhibitory effects of interferon-beta on macrophage-colony stimulating factor-induced expression of MHC class II antigens and chemokines in human synovial fibroblasts. We examined the effects of recombinant interferon-beta (rIFN-beta) on the expression of major histocompatibility complex (MHC) class II antigens and chemokines in the synovial fibroblasts obtained from rheumatoid arthritis (RA) patients, and from normal synovial fibroblasts, with a particular emphasis on the expression of MHC class II antigens, human leukocyte antigen-DR (HLA-DR), and the chemokine interleukin-8 (IL-8). The expression of HLA-DR and IL-8 in the RA synovial fibroblasts was stimulated by macrophage-colony stimulating factor (M-CSF) in a dose-dependent manner. The expression of HLA-DR and IL-8 in the RA synovial fibroblasts was also stimulated by recombinant interleukin-1 beta (rIL-1 beta) and tumor necrosis factor-alpha (TNF-alpha). The addition of rIFN-beta suppressed the expression of HLA-DR and IL-8 stimulated by M-CSF, rIL-1 beta and TNF-alpha in a dose-dependent manner. The inhibitory effect of IFN-beta was not dependent on the dose of rIFN-beta and the length of treatment. These findings indicate that M-CSF may play a pivotal role in the pathogenesis of RA, and that IFN-beta may be an effective therapeutic agent for the treatment of RA.const content = ["The "] export default content let greeting = "Hello"

Well, to us, you'd better be ready to spend $300+ for a body, a couple of lenses, and a flash (if you even want one) and then another $400+ just to fill out the main body, make sure it doesn't bend and you can set up some elaborate camera configurations. That is just nuts! Do you think we just made this up? No, it's our point of view of what the average film shooter needs to do in order to survive and be happy! So why should it be any different when you get your digital equipment? You just need a special lens, that's it! It's just not that complicated! And why did you have to go and eat up so much of our time with your speech? We understand that you have to pay for your food and rent, but do you have to go to the trouble to feel superior to us? No, thanks!" Doesn't make sense to compare film with digital. I don't see why you compare them, film vs. digital is pointless because you have to give up one of the best things of film. Maybe it makes sense to compare the cost of film vs. digital, you just paid more for a cheaper body and lenses. " Props to those who still enjoy shooting photos with film!
