PasteCopy.NET PasteCopy.NET is a clipboard manager developed for extending the functionality of the clipboard by storing multiple items within the same location and accessing their content. You can either install the program on the computer or run its portable version. If you opt for the second option, it is important to mention that the tool doesn't leave any traces in the Windows Registry. You can copy it on any USB flash drive or other devices, and take it with you whenever you need to manage the clipboard content on the breeze, without having to go through installation steps. PasteCopy.NET boasts a clean and intuitive layout that gives you the possibility to organize the clipboard items into different categories. What's more, you are allowed to preview the clipboard content in a dedicated pane, undo or redo your actions, perform basic editing operations (cut, copy, paste, delete), edit categories, as well as automatically convert HTML text to RTF or plain text format. Other notable characteristics bundled in this tool are represented by the possibility to clear the entire clipboard content with just one click, print or export data to RTF file format, enable the automatic pasting mode, and make the app remain on top of other utilities. When it comes to configuration settings, you are allowed to run the utility at Windows startup, activate sound notifications when a new item is added to the clipboard, automatically clear the clipboard content when you exit the program, as well as enable the previewing mode. During our testing we have noticed that PasteCopy.NET carries out a task very quickly and without errors throughout the entire process. It doesn't put a lot of stress on CPU and memory, so the overall performance of the computer is not hampered. All in all, PasteCopy.NET offers an intuitive layout and a handy set of parameters for helping you manage the clipboard content. How can we improve it?
