Perfect Memory Launcher is a software emulator of the Nintendo 64 and the Nintendo GameCube, developed by Erickson Research Group. It was first released in 2005 and is still receiving active development. The emulator is based on Dolphin, a code fork of the GameCube and N64 Emulator Dolphin, and is mostly compatible. It was originally released as a trialware application with an optional monthly fee for full access to the library of games but later became freeware. The latest version of Perfect Memory Launcher has been renamed to Perfect Memory Suite and is available as a commercial product. It includes the Emblems of disrespect collection for free. The collection of Emblems of disrespect, available to download below, was developed by Fluttershy777 in a similar fashion to Emblems of Respect and is not required for Perfect Memory Launcher to work. Cute-Timer Torrent Download is a software application developed by me. It was originally released for free. This is a personal project to create my first commercial software.
